Officials Tour Metro Site, Station Grading Underway

by Elaine Skolnik

Mayor Gil Weidenfeld and Assistant City Manager Michael McLaughlin recently participated in a tour of the Metro Green Line. Beginning in the area of the Greenbelt Metro Station, south of the Beltway and west of Cherrywood Lane, the tour followed the rail line right-of-way adjacent to the CSX railroad tracks south to the site of the College Park station adjacent to Calvert Road and then on to the Prince Georges Plaza and West Hyattsville stations.

Included in the entourage were county and area city officials and staff, including County Executive Parris Glendening and County Councilman Richard Castaldi. Guiding the group were Metro's General Manager Carmen Turner, Assistant General Manager for Design and Construction John McElhenny and Government Relations Officer Gerald Gough.

Grading for the Greenbelt station is well underway and base roads which will become the interior roads for the station are in place along with ramps to and from the Beltway. The bridge across the Beltway extending Cherrywood Lane to Capital Office Park and on to Edmonston Road (Kenilworth Avenue extended) is already open to traffic.

Marc Station

Construction has also begun on the MARC commuter rail station located on the west side of the Metro station. A pedestrian underpass will give Greenbelt and Hollywood residents access to both rail systems. The MARC line runs from Baltimore to Washington.

The West Hyattsville Metro station is virtually finished and the Prince Georges Plaza station, with a 1,000 car multi-level parking lot built directly over the station, is more than 50 percent complete. Work has also begun on the College Park station which is almost 50% complete.

Citing safety concerns, the College Park Pilots Association is still pressing for the line to be run underground at the end of the College Park Airport runway. (The pilots lost this battle in court several years ago). All federal, state and local agencies have approved the

End-of-Year Completion Of Centerway Predicted

by Diane Oberg

When the contract for the reconstruction of Centerway was awarded to NZI Construction Corp. last May, both the contractor and city officials expected the work to be completed by Labor Day. Obviously, that has not occurred. Celia Wilson, Director of the Department of Planning and Development, now hopes that the project will be completed by the end of 1990. This would be in line with the requirements of the contract which gives NZI six months to complete the project from the start of construction in June.

Wilson told the News Review that the delays resulted in part from the discovery of undocumented underground utilities in the construction area and partly from the contractor not working quite as quickly as the city had expected. In addition, some work had to be redone, further delaying the project.

The delays in the project may delay the completion of landscaping work at the center. Wilson said that the trees for the completed portion of the center have been ordered and should be in place this fall. Planting of the remaining trees will depend upon when the remaining construction is completed.

Although the concrete has been extended near the Crescent Road underpass, Wilson said that there will be no net loss of parking. While some spaces will be lost in this area, additional spaces will be created by cutting back the curb near Sovran Bank.

Arrest Made in Recent Break-in and Robbery

by Mary Lou Williamson

Greenbelt Police arrested Wayne Allen Keys, age 40, of no fixed address, in connection with a break-in on October 14 in the 24 court of Ridge Road, according to Cpl. David Buerger, police department spokesman. Keys grew up in Greenbelt and lived here for many years.

Combining information received through the community and intelligence gathered by the patrol division, Buerger said, police were able to obtain a warrant for Keys' arrest. At this time Keys has been charged with only the one break-in. He is being held at the Prince Georges County Detention Center in Upper Marlboro on $50,000 bond.

Investigation by police of the spate of break-ins in the old part of Greenbelt during the past month is continuing, Buerger told the News Review late Tuesday, to learn whether Keys is connected to any of the other break-ins and whether there were others involved. Information is still being sought from the community through the tip line, 474-9199. All information will be kept confidential. Buerger cautions residents to continue keeping doors and windows locked, particularly at night.

Absentee Ballots

A voter in the November 6 general election may obtain an absentee ballot from the Board of Supervisors of Elections by sending a letter stating name and address as it appears on the voter registration records, the reason for requesting an absentee ballot and the address where the ballot should be sent. A request for an absentee ballot cannot be accepted by the election office later than seven days before the election.

If a voter becomes ill or is called out of the county within seven days prior to an election, he or she should call the election office at 952-3270 to inquire whether an emergency absentee ballot can be sent (TDD 627-3352 for Hearing Impaired only between 8:30 a.m. and 4:30 p.m.)

Ballots may also be obtained in person—any weekday from 8 a.m. to 9 p.m.—at the Board of Supervisors of Elections, 14701 Governor Oden Bowie Drive, Suite 101, Upper Marlboro 20772.

City Opens New Recycling Center Saturday, Oct. 20

by Diane Oberg

The county should begin collecting recyclables from city residents early in 1991, although no firm date has been set for the first collection according to David Helmecki, Administrative Assistant for the Public Works Department. In the meanwhile, residents can take an expanded variety of recyclables to the new recycling center adjacent to Buddy Attick Park. Councilmembers, city staffers and members of the recycling committee will officially open the new recycling center at ceremonies this Saturday, October 20 at 10 a.m. The City office staff has gotten into the spirit of source reduction by beginning to photocopy council meeting materials on both sides of the paper.

Helmecki said that the new center will consist of two roll-on type containers which will replace the current shelters. These containers will have separate compartments for glass, aluminum, newspaper, corrugated cardboard, plastic, metal cans, phone books and office paper. There will be a separate area for motor oil and car batteries.

Sort Recyclables

Residents will be asked to sort their recyclables into the proper bin at the center. Currently, residents leave their glass and aluminum in boxes or paper or plastic bags at the center. With the new containers, cans and bottles should be removed from these bags and boxes. The empty paper bags may be placed in the newspaper bin, while boxes can be broken down and placed in the corrugated cardboard bin. Glass should be sorted by color.

There are restrictions on the types of plastic and office paper that can be recycled. Because only certain types of plastic can be recycled, only milk and soda containers should be deposited at the center. Only white office and computer paper should be deposited. Envelopes, fax and other glossy paper and colored paper should not be deposited.

In order for the expanded recycling program to be successful, users of the center need to place their goods in the proper container, and not place any extraneous materials in the bins, such as bags, boxes and non-recyclable trash. If the amount of non-recyclable contaminants in the bins is too high the recycler can reject the load, requiring manual removal of the contaminants, if possible. If too much trash is in the load, the material will be dumped in a landfill, not recycled.

Cost to City

The city is renting the roll-on containers from Prince Georges Trash. Each container costs $100/month for rental, plus $100 per trip to the recycling company. Helmecki estimates that the container for paper will be emptied weekly, versus every two weeks for the other container. If these estimates prove accurate, the recycling center will cost the city $10,200 per year. He said that the company used the estimated revenues from the sale of the recyclables to reduce the rental costs to this level. The company will retain all such revenues. He noted that the city no longer receives any money for its newspapers from its current recycler and that the price for glass has declined from $25/ton to $1.50/ton. The price of aluminum has remained at 30 to 35 cents per pound.

When the county begins collection of recyclables, residents, except those in rental apartments, will receive curbside collection of newspapers, aluminum, glass and plastic. The city will continue to run a separate collection center. The county has agreed to collect from all privately owned residential properties, including multi-family, multi-unit condominiums, according to a letter from Eugene Lauer, Director of the county Department of Environmental Resources.

The only type of residential property that will not be served is rental apartments. The county has not yet determined the details of condominium collection. Helmecki said that the county has agreed to collect at the door from GHI residents.

New Light Should Soon Shine on Kenilworth at 95

Starting next week drivers may face traffic delays as they leave the Capital Beltway's Inner Loop (I-95) at Kenilworth Avenue (Route 201) and at the crossover point on both the north- and south-bound travel lanes of Kenilworth Avenue, according to Dolly Allen, spokesperson for the State Highway Administration's Greenbelt office. "Signs are tentatively scheduled to be posted Monday" said Allen, warning drivers of potential delays from 9 a.m. to 3:30 p.m.

The off-ramp of the Inner Loop will be widened on the left side to provide storage of more cars. Work will begin behind Jersey barriers to be set up next week. Concrete General, Inc., of Gaithersburg, was awarded the $230,000 contract. The project is expected to be completed within four months, weather permitting.

The new traffic signal on Kenilworth Avenue will permit safer travel for vehicles crossing over the southbound lanes and turning left onto the northbound lanes.

A similar project several years ago provided a signal and widened ramp for Outer Loop traffic headed toward Greenbelt Road. According to Allen, timing for the new light will be tied to both the existing light (for the Outer Loop traffic) and the Crescent Road light. Women in Construction, Inc., holds the contract for installation of the light.

Travel lanes on I-95 will be closed at night when workers hang the electrical conduits beneath the Kenilworth Avenue bridge. Only two travel lanes would be closed at one time and only at night, 10 p.m. to 5 a.m.

Not an Endorsement

To the Editor:

I am writing in response to a letter to the editor ("Out of Context", News Review, October 4) which criticized my use in a targeted mailing of a letterhead containing the names of over 120 of my supporters.

Last January, I personally called these individuals to ask if I could use their names on my campaign letterhead. They were listed under the title, "Some of the People for Pitkin."

The use of this type of stationery for re-election correspondence is a common practice and only indicates overall support of a candidate, never an endorsement of a candidate's position on all issues. It is expensive and not customary to revise letterhead for each and every mailing.

There was never an indication in any of my mailings that these names endorsed my stand on any specific issue. It certainly was not my intent. I deeply regret any misunderstanding that has ensued.

Three One-Act 'Adjustments' Provide Evening of Variety

by Mary Lou Williamson

The Greenbelt Arts Center's three one-act plays provide an entertaining evening. The plays, each with five characters, look at the theme of "adjustments" from very different vehicles. Members of the audience are then asked to pick their favorite to go on to the Maryland One-Act Play Competition.

My pick is the first of the evening, "Nice People Dancing to Good Country Music," written by Lee Blessing and directed by A.C. Mendenhall. Xanna Williamson's outspoken Texas friendliness as Eva June is infectious. While her adjustments to her life are zany in the eyes of her niece, her use of warmth and good humor towards others brings a common sense order to her situation. She is well supported by the others, though Michael Cooney is too nice a kid to play the obnoxious teenager.

The second play, "Adaptation" by Elaine May, is directed by Ben Fisher. May uses a game show format with a brightly-colored game board; a commanding Games Master, wonderfully portrayed by Trix Whitehall; two players and an announcer who manage multiple roles; and a contestant, played by Tony Schiavone, who "adapts" throughout his lifetime search for security. How he adjusts to life's challenges determines whether he moves forward or back or sideways. Schiavone does well with the tough job of portraying his character from babyhood to old age.

"Half Time at Halcyon Days," which takes place in a women's health spa, is both robust and full of quirky personal relationships that need adjusting. The play, written by Carol K. Mack, is directed by Marie Tousignant, president of the Arts Center. Each of the five diverse characters is well played: Judy Holland is a meek and chubby Gloria who needs to be loved; Patricia Banks, as Schatzky, is married to her scouts instead of her husband; Gloria Blevins is a pleasantly smug and cold Babs in her perfect body; Ilene Levine, as son-dra with a small s, is believably lost in the system (a dangerous place to be); and Stephanie Wolter is just managing as a daffy Cassie with too much family.

Producer for the evening is Virginia B. Zanner. Dennis Jelalian is technical producer. Stage manager and assistant are David Wilson and Michael Radloff. Sound is by Tom Zanner and lights by Jerry Schmerl.

The Avrum Gudelsky Memorial Auditorium at Capitol College, an easy 10-minute ride up the Parkway, is perfect—very close to brand new, not too large, with comfortable seats, and no one far from the stage.

The plays will continue on Friday and Saturday nights, October 19, 20 and 26, 27 at 8 p.m. One Sunday matinee will be given on October 21 at 2 p.m. Call 441-8770 for more information.

MUSIC OF THE 30S WEEKLY ON WEDNESDAYS

Music of the 30's, sponsored by the Recreation Department and Prince Georges Community College, will be held on Wednesdays from 12:30 to 2:30 p.m. at the Greenbelt Youth Center. The class will run from October 31 until December 5 and will be led by Betty Timer. The class will sing, laugh and enjoy the sounds of the late 1930's and early 1940's.

A slight registration fee is required by the college. Pre-registration is essential to insure minimum class size. Call the college at 322-0998 or the Recreation Department at 474-6878 for more information.

is scheduled to open in late 1993. However, the Corps of Engineers has not yet issued a permit to fill in wetlands on the 70 acre Beltsville Agricultural Research Center tract earmarked for the Metro Service and Inspection Yards. Unsettled is the size of the turn-around loop. Apparently the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) and the United States Fish and Wildlife Service (F&W) agree that Metro's preferred 400-foot radius is unacceptable since it would impact 16.7 acres of wetlands. EPA and F&W have argued for a 300-foot radius which would lessen the impact on wetlands to about 6.9 acres.

Metro has maintained that since some of the wetlands would be located within a 400 foot turn-around loop, it would be possible to protect them by creating a means for water to flow into and out of the site. In this way, they say, a stand of trees could be preserved. Metro has also been concerned about noise from a loop with a 300-foot radius.

The issue of wetlands replacement appears to be nearing a solution. Apparently the Corps, EPA and F&W have concurred on a mitigation plan for replacing the disturbed wetlands (two acres created for every one lost). Metro's proposed mitigation sites are on BARC land. According to Bill Schultz of F&W, the A. H. Smith property is possibly the best site for the creation of new wetlands. However, he noted, federal and state agencies do not approve of condemning land for mitigation purposes. Since the Smith tract is zoned industrial, Metro officials stress that the cost of the land would be prohibitive and that condemnation would delay construction of the yards.

Mental Health Association Starts Self Help Group

A new six-week discussion group for men and women of all ages, who are widowed 18 months or less, will meet in the Riverdale area from 7-9:30 p.m. through November 29 (excluding Thanksgiving Day).

The group will discuss issues that the newly widowed face. The group also provides an outlet of understanding friends. Show you care by sending information to someone you love by calling 735-0838. Those wishing to join must call themselves to be scheduled for a telephone interview.

Members of Community Church attend dedication service of their new Memorial Grove.

Community Church Holds Dedication of Wall, Grove

The new Memorial Grove of the Greenbelt Community Church was dedicated in a short outdoor service on Sunday, September 23. A wall is the most readily visible part of the memorial grove. The entire grove was made to have a specific place to remember loved ones who have died.

The Memorial Grove is located on the grounds of the Community Church between the church building and Crescent Road. The church is located at the corner of Crescent and Hillside Roads. The wall and the flagstone path leading from the church to the grove were built this year by Kurtus Wellons. The low wall is constructed of yellow brick that blends with the facade brick of the church.

A time capsule was placed in the wall. It will contain such items as photos of church members at church events, and programs from important church services such as the first service held in the church building.

Plantings can be donated by church members in memory of members or non-members of the church. Members of the church, their parents, dependent children and members of their households may have plaques placed on the wall and can also have their ashes distributed in the Grove. Funds to start the Grove were dedicated in memory of loved ones of church members.

LAFFters Parties

Greenbelt LAFFters cheered the clowns, acrobats, animal acts, and other colorful performers when they attended the Famous Moscow (Russian) Circus last Saturday. The colorful costumes inspired them for the next great event, the Haunted, Wicked, Halloween Dance.

Leisure Activities for Fun and Friendship, a social club for differently abled adults in the Greenbelt area, which is sponsored by the Greenbelt Recreation Department, invites all those who qualify to join other LAFFters at the dance on Saturday, October 27. A van leaving the Youth Center at 6 p.m. sharp will provide transportation to the Marlow Heights Community Center, where the ghosts and goblins will greet them.

Those attending are asked to bring a one-liter bottle of juice or soda. For further information, call Karen or Patti at 474-6878.

Support Group For Deaf Women

A support group for deaf/hard-of-hearing female survivors of childhood sexual abuse will be set up if it can be ascertained that there is need for such a group in this area. It will meet in Mowatt Methodist Church, where a group for deaf/hard-of-hearing male survivors of sexual abuse now meets.

The group would include deaf/hard-of-hearing women who were sexually abused as children, think that they may have been sexually abused as children or have had someone else such as a therapist suggest that they were abused as a child. Anyone who is interested should call (301) 498-1588 or (301) 880-6935 (both TTY).

If the voice answering machine is reached, people should have someone leave a voice message giving only first name or initials and a telephone number where they can be reached.

Wheelchair B'Ball Begins Play at SHL

A new wheelchair basketball/open gym program will be starting on Monday, October 22. The program, sponsored by the Greenbelt Recreation Department, will be run at the Springhill Lake Center. The gym will be open from 7:30 to 10 p.m. to spectators and participants. The program is free of charge. The "Washington Warriors," the area's only National Wheelchair Basketball Association team, will be participating in the open gym. Call 474-6878 for info.

MODEL ROCKET LAUNCH

For more than 15 years the Goddard Visitor Center has hosted the world's longest running model rocket program.

More than 1,000 model rockets are launched yearly from the grounds of the Visitor Center.

Everyone is invited to bring a model rocket or watch the fun. Make a "launch" date at the Goddard Visitor Center! All launches are monitored for safety and take place on the Goddard Visitor Center grounds. This month's launch is on Sunday, October 21 at 1 p.m.

JOB SEARCH WORKSHOP OFFERED AT MARYLAND

The Free University, University of Maryland, College Park is offering a seminar/workshop Job Searching: "how to screen your resume in and others out." This class fills fast as it offers advice not found in many books.

WATCH WISE

It's a wise move to have all your timepieces checked regularly. That's because tiny dust particles can get into their works, slowing down, even stopping them completely.

But we service, as well as sell, a wide selection of timepieces.

So come visit us. And keep your good times going. We care.
